

CIRCUMCISION MADNESS

The Norwegian government reported that between 2006 and 2010, the 2% of the population who are circumcised had committed more than 80% of the rapes.

The link? The foreskin is a movable, double-layered sleeve. The uncut penis head is more sensitive when exposed, where a cut on is partially desensitized. This makes it more difficult for a man to enter a woman who is not already aroused without feeling pain in his penis which is more sensitive if uncut. Not only that, but women reported that they were significantly more likely to have vaginal dryness during intercourse with circumcised men than uncut men. During intercourse, it glides up and down the penile shaft, reducing friction and retaining vaginal secretions. The trauma of circumcision drives addiction and deviance from the sub-conscious. Circumcision frequently adversely affects mother-infant bonding. The list goes on.

What about hygiene? Removing part of your penis for hygiene is like removing your ears because you dislike washing them. Surgery is the correction vs the removal of healthy necessary function which is mutilation. Circumcision is not like clipping your fingernails, it's more like removing an eyelid.

This psychopathy scales into the nations of practitioners. The death penalty is more than twice as frequent in circumcising countries. Torture is more widespread among them. They are the only ones to practice excision, female circumcision. Most dictators are circumcised, and almost all terrorists are.

ETHICS?

There is a chuckle in the civilized world when a rapist murders a child offender. This is because an infant is even more vulnerable and innocent compared to a woman as a woman is to a man. Since we know the links between child genital mutilation and sexual violence, it follows that all those who oppose sexual violence and stand for child rights shall abandon and oppose circumcision cults. All those who stand by circumcision cults despite this news shall be known as the enemies of children's rights and as a cultural progenitor of rape. Should this practice make the great reset? Should defenders of it be considered fit for office? Should religions which practice it be considered constitutional?
